Thousands of Men in New York Removing Snow From the Walks and Streets

FOOD FAMINE IS PASSED

With Resumption of Railroad Traffic—Telephone and Telegraph Companies Hard Hit—Twelve Persons Dead as Result of Storm.

(Associated Press Telegram)
New York, March 3.—Fresh food supplies and milk from delayed trains which shoveled their way through the snowdrifts, restoration of the fire alarm service and above all, sunshine, came to New York and environs today in the way of the great storm of Sunday and Monday. No more deaths were reported, and at noon the mercury stood at 36. Colder, but continued clear was the prediction for tonight.

Of the eight barges adrift off Fire Island, five were in tow near New York today. This quieted fears for the safety of thirty-two men aboard who were on their way for Newport News or Norfolk.

Railroad schedules were vastly improved today, yet still far from normal. The Atlantic City express of the Jersey Central which left here Sunday afternoon with 100 passengers, was still stalled at Patterson's out, near Red Bank, N. Y.

Pennsylvania officials said that line was open to Philadelphia. Service on the Lackawanna was approaching normal. An express to Buffalo was sent out at 9 a. m. and "lost." Officers of the company believed, however, that it would get through.

Trains on the New York Central were being sent out on regular schedule. Incoming trains from the West were one to four hours late.

The Baltimore & Ohio reported that a snowdrift thirty feet high near Lang Branch, prevented direct traffic between New York and Philadelphia.

The damage to telegraph and telephone lines in New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania will be many hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Business in the financial district continued much curtailed today by reason of the storm.

(Associated Press Telegram)
New York, March 3.—New York began today to dig itself out of the snow. The weather is fair and the temperature rising with warm days in prospect, according to weather bureau announcements, it told the army of snow shovelers at work in the streets and on the rail roads in the storm area.

With a foot of ice and snow packed hard upon the heavy coating of snow left by two previous storms, the city today is assuming something like normal conditions after 36 hours of blizzard weather. The removal of snow from streets and sidewalks is the chief occupation of practically every person not otherwise occupied.

COMMITTEE HEARS CLAIMS OF THE SUFFRAGISTS

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, March 3.—Woman suffragists and anti-suffragists had another battle of words today before the house judiciary committee over the proposed constitutional amendment to enfranchise their sex. The heavy artillery of both sides was brought into action.

"Why can't you amend the constitution so that in various states, on petition of a certain number of voters the people may have the ballot?" demanded Mrs. Antoinette Funk, who with Mrs. Medill McCormick was in charge of the suffrage speakers.

Representative Mondell, Republican of Wyoming, urged the extension of woman suffrage and declared that in Wyoming the women voted in as large proportion as men.

BUTTER TRUST HEARING HAS BEEN POSTPONED

(Associated Press Telegram)
Chicago, March 3.—Hearing of the Elgin board of trade case before Judge Landis in the Federal court here may never come up. It was made known today. District Attorney James H. Wilkerson left for New York and Washington today and it was understood that the question of a compromise of the government's case against the alleged improper butter price fixing methods of the Elgin board of trade was the principal object of his journey.

The hearing was continued two weeks.

Ten-Year-Old Girl Who Disappeared From Home Located At Fairmount

With description of her as their only clue, police searched every corner of Newark for Romain Birkey, aged ten, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Birkey, 137 Clinton street, who disappeared when she started ostensibly for school shortly before 8 o'clock Monday morning. Telegrams located her Tuesday afternoon with an uncle, Chauncey Ashby, in Fairmount, W. Va. How she found means to make the trip is unknown. Police Chief Sheridan personally directed a search for the missing child, which covered Newark, surrounding country and neighboring cities.

The girl left the home of her aunt, Romain Stanbery, 68 East Locust street, Monday morning between 7:30 and 8:00 o'clock, bound for school.

No fear was felt for her safety until the noon hour, when she failed to put in an appearance at her home or that of her aunt.

The child had been inconsolable over the death of her grandmother, Mrs. Louise Birkey, who was buried three weeks ago. Acting on the theory that she might have gone to the cemetery to visit her grandmother's grave and was overcome by the severe cold, Police Chief Sheridan twice instituted a thorough search over Cedar Hill cemetery.

Local rural delivery carriers were furnished with her description and instructed to notify police if they found trace of her.

Interest In Big Contest Increases From Day To Day: Any Person May Enter Now

The Advocate is receiving numerous compliments upon the selection of judges for the Booklovers' contest. In securing the consent of Judge T. B. Fulton, Superintendent Wilson Hawkins, Hon. Edward Kibler, William M. Morgan and Professor C. L. Williams of Denison University, to act as judges in the big contest, this newspaper feels like congratulating itself. Absolute confidence may be placed in these men and the mere announcement of their names is sufficient to show that everybody who joins in the pleasant pastime of solving the Advocate pictures will get a "square deal."

Instead of abating, the interest in the contest is increasing from day to day. More and more people are entering, it having been demonstrated that it is just as easy for one to begin now as it was when the contest started. In the past three days several hundred have entered. It is so easy to start that anybody can do it. All that is necessary is to telephone the Advocate and order the paper sent regularly to your house or to call at this office and ask for a book.

Hundreds of Columbus people are interested. One of the Columbus papers has conducted two similar contests and the people over there learned last year what a lot of fun they can have in solving the pictures. And then the list of 136 prizes interests them too.

Think what you can do with that first prize $515 in gold, look down the list and see the other cash prizes. Imagine yourself the winner of the new Ford auto or the Smith & Nixon piano or the Victrola. These cold days make one think that 30 tons of Dixie coal dumped into the cellar without cost wouldn't be half bad. Then think of being topped out in some of the splendid clothing, shoes and hats and what about the $25 suit case bought of the New King Co.?

The Remington rifle at the Crane-Bliss store is a peach, the silverware at Coulter-McKay's is a mighty nice sort of a prize, the range at W. E. Miller's hardware store is a fine one, the Globe-Wernicke bookcase at Gleichen's will look well in any house and so will go on. It is down the big list but look at it yourself and see if it isn't the biggest and best list of prizes ever offered by a newspaper in a town of 30,000 people. The fact that hundreds of people in adjoining counties are in this contest to say nothing of the many here at home indicates that these prizes are really worth the effort. The "effort" you will find is really fun and at the same time it is educational.

Begin today, right now. Look at today's picture. If you haven't a catalogue you will find a copy will help in solving the pictures. It is not too late.

ELLIS TELEGRAM READ IN COURT; DEFENSE RESTS

(Associated Press Telegram)
Chicago, March 3.—The telegram upon which William Cheney Ellis of Cincinnati, laid the responsibility for the frenzy in which he killed his wife in a hotel here last October, was read in the Ellis trial today and the defense declared its evidence completed. Ellis burst into tears when the copy of the message was read by Judge Pettit. This was the telegram:

"Cincinnati, O., Oct. 10, 1913. 'Fred Cauldwell, Brantford, Ont. 'Arrive Chicago alone Sunday 7 a. m., Pennsylvania Cousin meets train. (Signed) 'E. H. ELLIS. 'I knew it! I knew it!' sobbed Ellis.

"I knew that my suspicions were well founded. My whole life is ruined."

"The defense here rests its case," announced George Remus, counsel for Ellis.

Alienists called by the state started to try to tear down the physis epilepsy defense.

Mr. Sidney Kuhn, of Chicago contradicted testimony by alienists for the defense that Ellis might have committed the crime while in a seizure of physis epilepsy or transitory insanity. Responding to a fifteen thousand word hypothetical question, reading of which occupied most of the morning session, Dr. Kuhn said that Ellis' acts before the killing showed a "perfectly logical sequence."

"The acts of the defendant were based on sound reason," Dr. Kuhn said.

DEATH COMES TO FAITHFUL SERVANT NAVY DEPARTMENT

Washington, March 3.—With a record of thirty-seven years of faithful service to his credit as a messenger and doorkeeper in the office of the secretary of the navy, during which his superiors became very much attached to him, William H. Wilkes, aged 71, died here last night. He was one of the oldest of government employees and had received many testimonials from secretaries of the navy. He was especially liked by Theodore Roosevelt while he was assistant secretary of the navy, and recently a friend called this to his attention. Wilkes replied, "I pray for Mr. Roosevelt three times a day."

REJECTED OFFER OF COMPANY

Council Turned Down the Propositions Submitted By Gas Company

COUNCIL CHAMBER COLD

Temperature Again Uncomfortable While City Dads Transact Business—Fifty Documents Were Considered.

In the longest session of the city council held in recent years the city dads Monday night considered more than fifty separate propositions. Reports from committees recommended the rejection of both propositions submitted by the gas company to settle the litigation now pending, recommended the rejection of the claim of P. J. and J. F. Flanagan for the destruction of their wagon by a fire truck while department heads made reports recommending various matters to be acted upon council.

Thirty ordinances were passed, including 18 special assessment ordinances and a number of resolutions were disposed of.

Councilman W. C. Seward went on record as being opposed to 16 of the 18 special assessment ordinances as well as a number of other bills which were passed on suspension of rules, despite his objections. In an address to council Mr. Seward stated that he was opposed to what he called "railroad" ordinances, yet he voted to rush through an ordinance reducing Fire Captain Ned Roe to the ranks and reducing his salary; to railroad two ordinances levying special assessments in the part of town in which he resides; to establish another city scale and to allow the service and safety departments to pay several hundred dollars worth of bills left over from last year.

He voted on the passage of legislation to construct the Seventh street sewer, Gay street sewer, Beuna Vista street sewer, Tenth street sewer and spoke against the suspension of rules on other legislation. He assisted, however, in the suspension of rules to adopt the resolution authorizing the service director to enter into contract for the repair of the city building at an estimated cost of $6,000 or $7,000.

The council chamber was no warmer than at the last meeting when it was found necessary to adjourn because of the temperature of the room. Monday night, however, legislation was pending which had been postponed from time to time and which it was important to pass at once and the councilmen donned their overcoats and went at the big grist with a determination to handle it as rapidly as possible.

All councilmen but Dr. Legge were present when Dr. Legge was called at 7:25 o'clock. Dr. Legge came in before the clerk had finished reading the journal. An unusually large number of spectators was present, probably because of the anticipated action on the gas question. Some of them remained until adjournment but the majority was unable to stand the chilly atmosphere and left early in the meeting.

The law committee's report was the first document read. The committee recommended the rejection of the gas company's propositions submitted at the last meeting. "We desire to make a more thorough investigation," said the report. "We believe that the settlement of the litigation and the signing of the contract will be a relief."

PREACHERS DEBATE SOCIALISM THEN HAVE FIST FIGHT.

(Associated Press Telegram)
Hartford, Conn., March 3.—After a debate on socialism in Unity hall here last night, the debaters, the Rev. Dr. John Wesley Hill and the Rev. J. C. Hogan, of Monroe, N. Y., engaged in a heated argument in an anteroom, during which Mr. Hogan claims Dr. Hill struck him with his fist.

Friends separated the two and the police were called. No arrests were made.

During the debate the Rev. Mr. Hogan produced what he purported to be a copy of court records of cases in which Dr. Hill had figured. The argument in the anteroom started, it is said, when Dr. Hill tried to secure possession of the documents to prevent publication.

Dr. Hill is president of the international peace forum and widely known as a lecturer. He is pastor of the Metropolitan Temple (Methodist Episcopal) in New York City.

DETECTIVES WERE NOT RESPONSIBLE FOR THE KILLING

(Associated Press Telegram)
St. Louis, March 3.—The six detectives who were assigned to the court where Wesley ("Red") Simon was being tried for murder yesterday were not responsible in any way for the killing of Simon by Henry Zang, chief witness for the prosecution, during a recess of the court yesterday afternoon, according to a statement of Chief of Detectives Allender today.

Chief Allender said he assigned the detectives to the Criminal court to prevent violence against witnesses of the state on the part of Simon's friends, and not to protect Simon, as had been reported. The detectives, he said, were instructed to guard Zang, and to watch all the gangsters in the courtroom and about the municipal court building.

Zang shot Simon while in a saloon, whether both had gone during a court recess.

QUARREL OVER A CORPSE ENDS AFTER THREE YEAR FIGHT

(Associated Press Telegram)
Columbus, March 3.—The body of Frederick Shealy finally will rest in the Oakwood cemetery at Bucyrus, after a three years' fight between the widow of the deceased man and his father. The Supreme court today ordered the body left in its present burial place, denying the petition of the widow to remove it to the Holy Trinity Catholic cemetery.

Shealy died in 1908 and was buried in the Catholic cemetery. Daniel Shealy, the father, and his brothers and sisters obtained permission and removed the body to the Protestant cemetery. Then Mrs. Anna Shealy Ross, who had remarried, went into court and the two lower courts upheld her contention that the body should be moved back again to the Catholic burial ground. The Supreme court held differently.

Fremont, O., March 3.—Attorney A. E. Culbert of this city who was first inclined to become a candidate for attorney general on the Republican ticket, after attending the get-together banquet in Columbus last week, has decided he will enter the race for secretary of state instead and will soon begin circulating his petitions.

Culbert is past great commander of the Ohio Macabees.

The friends of City Solicitor A. W. Overmeyer of this city are urging his candidacy for attorney general on the Democratic ticket. Overmeyer is president of the Ohio Fair Boys Association.

James J. Hill Leaving White House After Talk With The President

James J. Hill, who built the Great Northern railroad and now controls both it and the Northern Pacific, with several other lines, was a recent visitor to the White House to talk over railroad matters with President Wilson. He spent some time there and walked out to his hotel. Mr. Hill does not pose for the photographers, and they have found it difficult to get pictures of him, but this time they found him in front of the White House grounds on Pennsylvania avenue.

Turner Secures Temporary Injunction Against State Commission's Investigation

(Associated Press Telegram)
Columbus, March 3.—Counsel from the attorney general's department today arranged for a hearing this afternoon before Judge Dillon in the Franklin county common pleas court of the temporary injunction proceedings started this morning against the state commission's investigation of alleged violation of the civil service law, by Prosecutor Turner of Franklin county.

The state commission's hearings in an attempt to discover whether state employees under civil service had been soliciting funds for political campaign purposes was to have been started early today and Prosecutor Turner had been subpoenaed, but the prosecutor's injunction stopped the commission. He alleged it would interfere with the grand jury investigation which is to start tomorrow.

Frank Davis and James Boulger, of the attorney general's department, represented the state commission in the hearing on the injunction this afternoon.

They claimed the prosecutor had no right to ask that the state civil service commission be restrained from conducting an investigation which is delegated to it by the civil service law, because it happens to fall at the same time as a grand jury investigation.

Prosecutor Turner's original letter to the commission, suggesting an investigation and offering to tell what he knew of law violation, was introduced at the injunction hearing.

HOOPER WINS A VICTORY IN THE SUPREME COURT

(Associated Press Telegram)
Columbus, March 3.—The Supreme court today granted the attorneys of Ralph Hooper, youthful life prisoner in the Ohio penitentiary for a review of his case on appeal from the court of appeals of Van Wert county. Hooper some weeks ago entered the penitentiary upon conviction of the murder of his child wife.

The present investigation was conducted under the joint auspices of committees representing the Freeville institution and the National Association of George Junior Republics. It concerned itself with three charges, two of which the judges sustained. On a third, a charge that George was the father of a girl's child, a Scotch verdict of "not proven" was returned. The charges sustained were that George had made improper overtures to a girl citizen, and that he went to another girl's room at night where he made an examination of her person.

The judges who passed on the charges were Joseph H. Choate, Jr., Samuel Seabury, state Supreme court justice, and Miss Lillian Wald, a social worker.

An erroneous report from Ithaca Sunday night said that the judges in this hearing had rendered a decision acquitting George.

GOING, GOING, GONE! Poor Zanesville Is Having Her Troubles

Columbus, March 3.—An ordinance passed by the city council of Zanesville which prohibited public auctioneering in that city after 4 p. m. was today declared illegal by a decision of the Supreme court. The court holds that the ordinance was an unreasonable exercise of the police powers and in rendering its decision affirmed the judgment of the circuit court and reversed the common pleas court. The style of the case was city of Zanesville against Petro Zitzky.

BRITAIN'S MINISTER TO MEXICO

To Hold Conference This Evening With President At White House

Will Sail For England Immediately After But Has No Comment to Make on the Mexican Situation—Speech of Foreign Secretary in House of Commons.

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, March 3.—Sir Lionel Carden, Great Britain's minister to Mexico, will confer with President Wilson this evening at 6 o'clock and later will leave for New York to sail for England tomorrow morning on the Olympic.

With Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, the British ambassador, Sir Lionel conferred briefly early today with Secretary Bryan and arranged the hour of his meeting with the president. Secretary Bryan will dine at the British embassy this evening before Sir Lionel leaves for New York.

The British minister declined to comment upon the Mexican situation in any way.

(Associated Press Telegram)
London, March 3.—The British government's view that no immediate action could be taken by it in connection with the deadlock over the investigation into the death at Juarez of William S. Bontom, was made quite plain today in the House of Commons by Sir Edward Grey, the British foreign secretary.

Sir Edward was, however, equally explicit in pointing out that if Great Britain failed to secure satisfaction through the United States, the British government reserved to itself the right to secure reparation whenever it was able to do so.

The promised pronouncement on the Mexican situation from the foreign secretary had been anxiously awaited.

Intense resentment has been displayed throughout the British Isles over what is regarded as the attempt on the part of Venustiano Carranza, the constitutional leader, to show discord between England and the United States and also over the repeated delays in the investigation of the death of Bontom.

Sir Edward Grey, the British foreign secretary, made an important statement on the Mexican situation in the House of Commons today.

In reply to a question as to the investigation into the death at Juarez of William S. Bontom, he said: (Continued on page 10, col. 4.)

COUPON NO. 19.

Newark Advocate Booklovers' Contest.

Title .....

My Name .....

My Address .....

(19) MARCH 3, 1914. (19)

Clip out your coupons neatly, and fill them out clearly and plainly, remembering that in the event of a tie for any prize between two or more contestants, neatness and clear writing will win the judges' favor. The picture is to be a part of the coupon. Do not detach the coupon from the picture.

Send no answers whatever to the Advocate until the contest is ended by the publication of Picture No. 70. Any answers received before that time will be destroyed and will not be counted. Read the rules carefully.

Rules of the Booklovers' Contest.

Any person may compete in this contest who lives either in Licking, Delaware, Knox, Coshocton, Muskingum, Perry, Fairfield or Franklin counties, Ohio, except employees of the Advocate or members of their families.

Answers to the picture must be written upon the coupon blank which will be printed every day with each picture during the seven-day publication of the contest will last. Both picture and blank must be clipped from the paper, and the blank properly filled in with the name of book and the author's name together with the name and address of the contestant written clearly and plainly in the space provided. Not more than one person's name may be written on any coupon.

Each picture will represent the title of only one book, but there may be some pictures that suggest the title of several books. For the benefit of contestants, and to allow for this variety of solution, any contestant may give as many as five answers to any picture, at will; but not more than one solution may be written on any coupon. If the contestant gives two answers as likely to include the correct one, two coupons must be used: if three answers, three coupons, and so on.

In each instance, whether the contestant gives one answer or five answers to any picture, both the picture and coupon must be used for each of the answers; and not more than five answers to any picture will be permitted.

If any one of the five answers that may be given to any picture is correct, the contestant will be credited for the correct solution and will not have the incorrect ones counted against his or her chances. Prizes will be awarded to every contestant, by the Contest Judges, who sends in the largest number of correct answers upon the smallest number of coupons. Thus, if a contestant gives the correct answers to 70 of the pictures and uses only 70 coupons, that contestant will rate higher in the prize awards than one who uses 140 coupons or any higher number up to 250 for supplying the 70 correct answers.

If two or more persons, supplying the same number of correct answers, have used the same number of coupons for their answers, the highest rating will be given to the one whose answers are most neatly prepared, in the opinion of the judges.

No contestant will be allowed to submit more than one set of answers, which must include not less than 70 or more than 250 coupons, with accompanying pictures.

Positively no solution may be sent in to the Contest Editor until every one of the seventy pictures has been printed. Answers in complete sets, as just specified, above, will then be received in this office and should be addressed to "Contest Editor," Booklovers' Contest, Advocate, Newark, Ohio. The awards will be made strictly according to the correctness of each set of answers, and the correctness shall be determined by the Finding List, the catalogue issued by us as governing the Booklovers' Contest. This catalogue can be obtained from the Advocate office for 25c (27 cents if by mail), and will include in its 5000 titles every one used in the contest. Awards will be announced in this newspaper after the close of the contest.

It is not absolutely necessary to send in solutions on blanks clipped from the Advocate, as duplicate pictures may be drawn by the contestant, if he or she so desires, or duplicate blanks may be obtained at the office of the Newark (Ohio) Advocate.

IF KIDNEYS ACT BAD TAKE SALTS

Says Backache is a sign you have been eating too much meat which forms uric acid.

When you wake up with the backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels; removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, stiff neck, dizziness, spells, your stomach head, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is a life-saver for recurring meat eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.

SPEAKERS AT BANQUET LAUD MEN'S EFFORT

CHURCH BROTHERHOODS HEAR
J. KNOX MONTGOMERY AND
HON. EDWARD KIBLER SR.

Two Hundred Representative Men of All Walks of Life Enjoy
Social and Banquet
Monday Night.

A most enjoyable event in every feature was the social and banquet given at the First Presbyterian church Monday evening, by the Federation of Church Brotherhoods. This is a monthly function and this was in all points one of the most successful yet given.

The organization under whose auspices it was held, is composed of the men connected with the Evangelical churches of the city, and in case of a brotherhood organization in any church, this is associated with the federation.

Some time before the hour set the men began to assemble in the Sunday school room of the church and a pleasant time was spent in social intercourse among the men present.

The assemblage was called to order by President Carl Norpell of the Federation, and the march was taken up to the main dining room, where the tables were prepared to receive the guests.

About two hundred men sat down and after Rev. P. H. Frye had returned thanks, the women of the church began the busy task of serving the large crowd. This was done in the most expeditious manner and there were no tiresome waits between courses, and yet the work was done with the utmost precision and with no unnecessary confusion.

The following was served:

Cream of Tomato Soup
Wafers
Chicken pie
Mashed Potatoes
Escalloped Corn
Jelly
Slaw
Bread
Coffee
Butter
Ice Cream
Cake

During the banquet hour inspiring music was rendered by an orchestra under the leadership of K. I. Dickerson, and many of their selections were greeted with merited applause.

The speakers for the evening were J. Knox Montgomery, President of Muskingum college, New Concord, who is a man of pleasing personality and a speaker of high merit. His address was the principal one of the evening and he dwelt upon the great importance of the work designed to be carried out, and the recognized efficiency of the various church brotherhoods as a means to the desired end, especially when the effort was concentrated by a strong federation.

His address was most attentively heard and the auditors took home many helpful thoughts and homely truths.

Hon. Edward Kibler, Sr., of Newark was the other speaker assigned and that he was a welcome part of the program was evidenced by the applause that greeted him when he arose. Mr. Kibler is a man who is known in Newark as a pleasing, yet forceful public speaker, a man of high ideals and keen perception of the possibilities of a subject and the aims and work to inspire him with unusual power and his audience with a healthy enthusiasm.

Both men of course congratulated the city upon the possession of the high character of manhood represented in this federation and it was indeed a magnificent assemblage of the best men of Newark.

REJECTED

ing of a new contract would be for the best interests of the gas consumers, providing a fair rate and an adequate supply of gas can be secured and the city can get assurance that the gas company can and will carry out its contract.

The same committee reported that the claim of the Flanigans be rejected. "We find on investigation," reported the committee, "that the wagon was at the time of the accident, on the wrong side of the street, viz., the north side, headed east, and we find that there was no negligence on the part of the driver of the fire truck." Both reports were received and filed.

Mayor Bibbee reported collections for the month of February as follows:

City Cases—
Fines ..... $ 68.00
Licenses ..... 27.50
Other collections ..... 58.50

State Cases—
Fines ..... $191.00
Mayor's fees ..... 28.00
Officers' fees ..... 19.00

..... $248.00

The service director asked for authority to improve the filtration plant of the waterworks department by covering the pure water basin and by installing other filtration units. The authority was granted in a resolution adopted later.

The safety director recommended the repeal of the ordinance fixing a fee for licensing motor vehicles, and recommended that authority be given for the sale of the fire engine and hose wagon stored in the city building. The ordinance was repealed and the sale authorized in legislation adopted later.

Engineer Wells reported that plans for the Penny Avenue sewer had been revised and that the total cost of the improvement would be $162,200, or 50 cents per front foot. Mr. Wells also reported on plans for the paving of Elizabeth street, showing the total cost to be $182,300. Council Clerk Woodward reported that notices had been served for sewers in Seventh, North Gay and Indiana streets. He asked for authority to invest $1000 of the cemetery endowment fund received from F. G. Taylor, agent. The authority was granted in a resolution adopted later.

Louis Spees and fifteen residents of North street petitioned council to cause the Ohio Electric to remove its passing siding in North street east of Hudson avenue. The matter was referred to the law committee.

E. E. Hopkins and eight other property owners in Arlington avenue petitioned council for a 12-inch sewer in Arlington avenue from Oakwood to Cedar. William Lamb and 29 property owners petitioned council to change the name of Valandigham street to Texas avenue. Councilman Knauber introduced an ordinance to this effect later.

Mrs. Genevieve Bentz and eight others asked council to delay the paving of that street until the sewer was constructed and water mains put down. Councilman Keller advised council that a resolution to proceed with the sewer was in the hands of the clerk and that the sewer work would be done before the paving was started.

The Newark Trades and Labor Assembly sent two communications to council, one recommending that all contracts for labor and material entered into by the city, specify wherever possible that Newark union labor and material be used. The other communication urged that the gas company's propositions be rejected. The assembly in a resolution adopted, condemned the gas company as a monopoly and declared that it was in a position to give adequate gas supply if it desired but that it had purposely shut off the supply and caused unnecessary suffering. The body pledged its support to council in an effort to settle the matter to the benefit of the consumers.

An ordinance was passed authorizing the various city officers to pay bills held over from last year. Another ordinance was introduced by Councilman Knauber changing the name of Valandigham street to Texas avenue.

Councilman Keller, Payne and Legge favored the ordinance fixing the number of firemen and fixing their salaries. The ordinance makes no changes or apt the one certain to reduce the ranks and Hydrant Repairmen's Union was placed on the same basis as other firemen so they can have all the benefits of the rules governing the department. The measure was passed on suspension of rules.

Mr. Rexroth's ordinance establishing a city scale at the C. S. Osborne place in Indiana street was passed under suspended rules. Fifty per cent of the receipts of the scales will go to the city and Mr. Osborne will give bond in the sum of $500.

Mr. Payne's ordinance to construct a sewer in Gay street and Indiana street passed on suspension of rules. Mr. Keller's Seventh Street sewer ordinance was also passed.

Special assessment ordinances were passed, to pay for the improvement of the following streets, the amounts given indicating the assessment per front foot.

Councilman Rexroth's ordinance to sell the east end of East street was on its second reading. Passage was delayed to give property owners time to state their objections to the sale.

Councilman Knauber's ordinance regulating the height of street car steps was on its second reading. An ordinance by Keller to proceed with the construction of the Tenth street sewer was passed on suspension of rules.

A resolution was adopted authorizing the service director to advertise for bids and let a contract for the remodeling of the old city building.

Councilman Boham's resolution to prepare plans for a sewer in Linden avenue was adopted. Another resolution by Mr. Boham provided for a sidewalk on the east side of Deerow avenue.

MRS. LYON'S ACHES AND PAINS

Have All Gone Since Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Terre Hill, Pa.—"Kindly permit me to give you my testimonial in favor of Lydia E. Pinkham's

Vegetable Compound. When I first began taking it I was suffering from female troubles for some time and had almost all kinds of aches—pains in lower part of back and in sides, and pressing down pains. I could not sleep and had no appetite. Since I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound the aches and pains are all gone and I feel like a new woman. I cannot praise your medicine too highly."—Mrs.
AUGUSTUS LYON, Terre Hill, Pa.

It is true that nature and a woman's work has produced the grandest remedy for woman's ills that the world has ever known. From the roots and herbs of the field, Lydia E. Pinkham, forty years ago, gave to womankind
a remedy for their peculiar ills which has proved more efficacious than any other combination of drugs ever compounded, and today Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is recognized from coast to coast as the standard remedy for woman's ills.

In the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., are files containing hundreds of thousands of letters from women seeking health—many of them openly state over their own signatures that they have regained their health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; and in some cases that it has saved them
from surgical operations.

J. A. DONAHUE DIES SUDDENLY MONDAY EVENING

As a great shock and surprise to his many friends came the announcement of the death of Mr. John A.
Donahue at his home in Clinton St.,
on Monday evening. He dropped dead at his home and the cause of death is given as apoplexy.

Mr. Donahue, had complained a few days ago of having a stiff neck,
and of pains at the base of the brain,
but he attended to his duties on Monday as foreman of the job room of the American-Tribune. Monday evening, however, he told his family that he was not feeling well and that he thought he would visit the doctor.
He called at the physician's office
after waiting awhile and not finding him he returned home.
He still complained of feeling ill and endeavored to phone the doctor. He turned away from the telephone and fell in doing so. Mrs. Donahue was alone and after failing to revive him
she called the neighbors and a doctor was secured but it was too late and death was pronounced due to apoplexy.

He is survived by the wife and two children, Mrs. John May and Mr.
Carl Donahue, one brother William of Woods Avenue and two sisters, Mrs. Alice Walker of Bolton Avenue and Mrs. Susie Sheppard of Boyles-ton Avenue.

The deceased was born in Newark on March 1, 1867, his parents being Mr. and Mrs. Charles Donahue. He was married in April 23, 1889 and to this union were born three children, one of whom died in infancy. He devoted his life to the printer's trade, serving his apprenticeship in the shop of E. S. Miller and for a number of years he has been connected with the American-Tribune Publishing company, being at the time of his death, foreman of the job room.

Mr. Donahue was a man of agreeable personality and numbered his friends by the score. He was past chancellor of Lodge 305 Knights of Pythias.

The arrangements for the funeral have not been completed.

Today in Pugilistic Annals

1901—Tommy Ryan defeated
Tommy West in seventeen rounds at Louisville. This bout was for the middleweight championship of the world. Ryan after outgrowing the waterweight division, of which he had been champion, claimed the middleweight title in 1897, the year in which Bob Fitzsimmons graduated from the middleweight ranks and wrestled the heavyweight title from Jim Corbett. Kid McCoy has a much better claim to the leadership of the middleweights, but when the Hoosier went after the heavyweights Ryan became the legitimate middleweight title-holder. In Tommy West he met the hero of many hard-fought battles, but Ryan had the better of it from the first, and in the seventeenth chapter West's seconds threw up the sponge. A little later West was defeated by Martin Hirt.

1902—Joe Jeanette and Sam
Langford fought a 12-round draw at Boston.

1911—Ad Wolgast and knockout
Brown fought a 10-round draw at New York.

LICKING COUNTY BONDS BRING A HIGH PREMIUM

The Licking county commissioners made one of the best bond sales
ever conducted in Licking county,
on Tuesday, when bids were opened in the presence of County Auditor
J. W. Hurey for an issue of $30,- 000 bridge bonds bearing interest at five per cent.

There was only one Newark institution to bid, the Licking County Bank, but the premiums offered were considered above the average.
The bonds were sold to Season-good and Moyer of Cincinnati, at the handsome premium of $1386 which will be seen to be more than three times as much as the lowest and nearly twice that of the next highest bid.

The following firms were the bidders:
Farson, Son & Co., Chicago, premium $765.
Hayden, Miller & Co., Cleveland,
premium $615.
Commercial National Bank, Co-
shocton, premium, $411.
Provident Saving & Trust Co., Cincinnati, premium $609.
Hoehler, Cummings & Pruden, Toledo, premium, $607.
Otis & Company, Cleveland, pre-
mium $625.
Seasongood & Mayer, Cincinnati,
premium, $1386.
Licking County Bank, Newark, premium, $622.50.

VOCATIONAL TRAINING.

Labor Would Bring State Universities
Nearer the People.

Treating of vocational training in the public schools, the recent convention of the American Federation of Labor at Seattle took a position commending such vocational education as can be applied in actual experience in the industrial field and deprecating the system employed in some secondary schools by which the student receives such superficial instruction that he is unable to turn his knowledge to any practical account and not infrequently finds it a detriment.

Another resolution was adopted which strongly favors the university extension idea as exemplified in the work of the University of Wisconsin and which indorses the official report of the executive council of the American Federation of Labor on that subject. This report states: "University extension has two desirable results.
It rouses all people to a realization of their educational needs and provides the means of satisfying those needs;
the spirit of such a university incul-
cates in its graduates a feeling of obligation to the state and the citizens that provided for their education and infuses into them a keen awareness of the duty of each individual to give the best that is in him to those among whom he lives."

To bring the state owned universities nearer to the working people and the public as a whole and to secure the inauguration of courses that will serve the needs of the whole people
the convention urged that the members of every organization represented should endeavor to secure legislation in their respective states which will put the state university at the disposal of "the children of the workers and the workers themselves" and which will so widen the scope of its activities as to make it a real, forceful factor in meeting the needs and broadening the lives of the whole people of the state.

LABOR'S FOES ACTIVE.

Making Determined Efforts to Crush
Out Trade Unionism.

United States Senator John W. Kern addressed the convention of the United Mine Workers of America in recent session at Indianapolis.

In speaking of the Sherman antitrust law he said it would be written before the present congress adjourned that the law was not intended to be used against labor organizations.

"This is a crucial time for organized labor," said he. "Enemies of labor are putting forth greater efforts than ever before to exert influence over members of congress and the senate in an attempt to crush trade unionism. It is a time when there should be harmony
among yourselves."

The senator referred to the West Virginia strike investigation and said he introduced the resolution at the request of Senator Borah as a matter of policy, as he was chairman of the caucus.

"I had little knowledge of the conditions in West Virginia," said he.
"The newspapers did not print the story of the terrible conditions existing. I did not know that Mother Mary Jones was held a prisoner without the guarantee of her constitutional rights
and that she was tried by a drumhead court martial. Foul slander was circulated regarding that noble woman, who is known and loved more than any other woman in the land. It was publicity more than congressional investigation that brought results. The men down there were afraid to continue their lawless policy."

A Profit Sharing Factory.

The sum of $23,760 was distributed at the twenty-ninth profit sharing among the employees at Sir William P.
Hartley's jam factory, Alntree, England. Since the inauguration of the scheme a total sum of $379,900 has been distributed. Sir William P. Hartley intimated that he would add a further sum to the workers' pension fund, which he started five years ago, bringing his donations to $50,000.

Gifts For Workers.

A Cincinnati department store has insured all of its employees, male and female, young and old, in a large insurance company of New York for a sum equal to a year's salary. All of the regular employees, from cash boys and girls through the range of clerks, chauffeurs, door walkers, office employees and managers, were presented with a full week's additional salary as a Christmas gift.

the results of the congressional investigation.

Organized labor of California has indorsed the administration of Governor

his re-election.

Employers of female labor in the state of Washington estimate that it costs a working girl $9.81 to $10.29 a week to support herself.

John P. White, president of the United Mine Workers of America, declined the office of seventh vice-president of the American Federation of Labor, to which he was elected at the Seattle convention.

RALPH D. COLE MAY ENTER RACE FOR U. S. SENATE

Press dispatches today state that the friends of former Congressman Ralph D. Cole, of Findlay, O., are urging him to become a candidate for United States Senator at the Republican primaries. The dispatches state that Mr. Cole has been almost persuaded to enter the contest.

Mr. Cole was elected to congress for three consecutive terms after he had served two terms in the legislature from Hancock county. He was the author of the Cole excise law,
under which public utilities corporations are taxed on their gross receipts. At the end of his third congressional term President Taft appointed him attorney to the comptroller of the United States treasury, which position he ably filled resigning soon after the election of Woodrow Wilson to the presidency.

Mr. Cole's last visit to Newark was on the occasion of the Elk lodge of sorrow in December 1912, at which time he delivered the oration at the Auditorium. He will long be remembered by those who were fortunate enough to have heard it and his eloquence was a subject for angulation to those who were responsible in having secured his service.

Lieut. J. C. Porte, Who Will Fly over Atlantic

Lieutenant J. C. Porte has come to the United States to help build the great airship of Bodman Wanamaker in which an attempt will be made to fly across the Atlantic ocean. The lieutenant will be one of the pilots if the start is ever made.

"There is no cloud in my mind that we shall be successful," said he. "If we did not feel sure of making it, we would not attempt the trip. Nothing is to be left to chance, and every detail will be carefully figured out before the start is made."
In making the flight I count on my observations more than anything else.
The idea of having anything to guess work does not appeal to me. The use of ordinary instruments in taking observations will not be feasible, owing to the altitude and we are planning a specially designed sextant, which will correct the use of the horizon unnecessary.

Solving Market Problems.

The crop report of the department of agriculture gives ten billions of products as the yield of American farms in 1913. But owing to short crops there is little indication of lower prices to the consumer. The report pertinently suggests that the high price paid by consumers, ranging from 5 to 500 per cent above the figures the farmer receives, leaves ample opportunity for lowering the retail price, and at the same time, increasing the cash income of the farmer.

There will be no lower cost of food until this closer relation between the farmer and the consumer.

Delays.

"Delays," said Dad, "are dangerous, and apt to work much harm." "Was in the days when, grangerous, we lived upon the farm. So we were always hurrying to get things done, the plowing and the currying, the harvesting of prunes. We did our work kerp whooping, and gained the silver buck, while other farmers droopingly complained of evil luck. When storms came up a-thundering we did not care a darn, they never caught us blundering—our hay was in the barn, when rivers rose amazingly, overflowing banks and bed, we viewed the blam'd things brazenly—our wood was in the shed. The elements might clamorously spread snow throughout the land, they could not catch our family without some coal on hand. The lessons learned thus youthfully have served me all my days, and I can tell you truthfully that "Up and Do it" pays. Delays are surely ruinous; let's do things on the jump, or Fate will soon be shooin' us toward the blasted dump."

You Can't Earn Money When You're Laid Up

There are a lot of people in this town who cannot afford to be sick. Perhaps none of you feel that you can, but certainly some of you can't, for as soon as you are sick, your wages stop and worry and debts begin to pile up. The sensible thing for you to do, as soon as you feel run-down and worn out, no matter what the cause, is to take something just as quick as you can to build up strength and health. Make yourself more comfortable and provide against serious sickness.

We don't believe there is any other medicine made that will do as much towards saving your health and thus helping you save your money as Rexall's Olive Oil Emulsion. It is a medicine that gets right at the trouble and relieves it by toning the nerves, enriching the blood, and giving new strength and health to the whole body. It doesn't do this by means of alcohol or habit-forming drugs, because it contains none. Its strength and health-giving power is due to pure Olive Oil and the Hypophosphites, long endorsed by successful physicians, the one for its food value, the other for its tonic value. Here, for the first time, they are combined, and the result is a real nerve, blood and body-building medicine—a real strengthener that we are proud to tell you about. We don't need to hesitate in using it, because if it doesn't do all we say it will, you can satisfy you in every way, it will cost you nothing. If it doesn't make you strong and well again, come back and get your money. It will be given to you without word or question. Sold only at the more than 7,000 Rexall stores, and in this town only by us $1.00. Frank D. Hall, 10 North Side Square, Newark, O.

Wisdom from Washington

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, March 4. [Special.]—The man abroad seems to be an important personage. While "the message to Garcia" was considered an important matter and the man who carried it was made a hero for a time, "the message to the man abroad" is also of some importance; but, more important still, is his reply. When a statesman wanders in foreign lands, if he has "cut some ice" in politics theretofore, there is a particular interest in what he has to say upon his return.

Bryan in 1907.

Back in 1907, when William J. Bryan had been making a tour of foreign countries, he by slow stages approached the United States. A distinguished Democrat hurried abroad with a message, no less a personage than John Sharp Williams, then leader of the minority in the house of representatives. He went with more than a "message to Garcia," for he had several messages, but the purport of them was to tell the man abroad to be "safe and sane" and all would be well. Mr. Bryan landed in New York, and before a crowded Madison Square Garden audience he declared himself in favor of various doctrines, including government ownership of public utilities and a few other such strange things to Democrats, and the whole conservative element of the Democratic party was chilled.

Roosevelt in 1910-14.

Roosevelt is beating other men in the role of the Man Abroad. In 1910 he was returning from the jungles of Africa, and Gifford Pinchot hastened to tell him what was going on. Roosevelt did not say much, as is his custom, but he came back and forced the Taft administration to support him and his policies in the New York state convention in 1910.

And now the whole country is looking forward to the trip of Douglas Robinson, who is going to visit the man abroad once more. Thousands of people interested in politics are wondering not so much what the message will be, but they would like to know the answer.

A Response From Canada.

Congressman Smith of Maryland, who has put forth the interesting proposition that the United States should transfer the panhandle of Alaska to Canada in order to create a good feeling between the Anglo-Saxon nations, has received commendation from an expected source. From Edmonton a town on the Saskatchewan river, in the region of latitude 54-40, comes strong endorsement of the proposition to give up the strip of territory that many persons think is very valuable. So far neither Congressman Smith nor any one else has proposed that we shall exchange that territory for the privilege of free tolls on American coastwise shipping passing through the canal nor for Great Britain's friendship while handling the delicate Mexican situation.

Parcel Post Troublesome.

There has been enough debate in both houses of congress on the parcel post conditions to show a wide division of opinion as to a real, workable parcel post service. For instance, it is evident that rural route carriers and star route carriers cannot carry the tremendous amount of freight by mail which is now being transported under the fifty pound limit in use. It has also been developed that charges in the zone system must be guarded in order to insure best results.

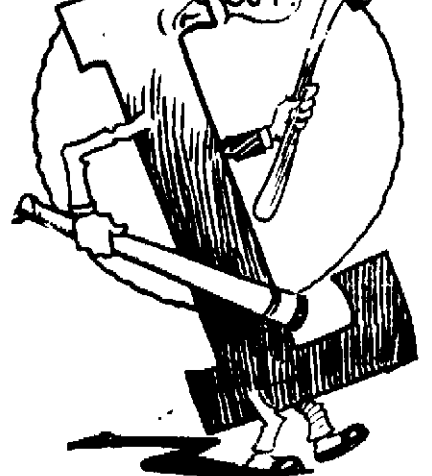

Whatever may be said of the service, it is well understood that Postmaster General Burleson has been trying to bring out a workable parcel post service. The postmaster general believes that the government must monopolize everything that it undertakes and that in time it must take over the entire express business.

Where It Started.

Smarting under the designation that he was a "pork barrel" statesman because he was in favor of the recently passed good roads bills, Congressman Shackelford of Missouri in a personal privilege statement asked, "Where did the term 'pork barrel' get its start?"

Perhaps Shackelford don't know it, but it got its start on the floor of the house of representatives during a day set apart for consideration of public buildings. In the Fifty-first congress there was no omnibus public building bill, but each bill was considered on its merits. At the close of the day set apart for these bills, a member of the house moved to adjourn, and Tom Clinie of San Francisco, whose bill was next, rushed down the aisle shouting: "Don't adjourn yet! Don't adjourn yet!"

WHAT IS IT?

What weapon?

Just as I am about to get my piece of pork!

And they gave Clinie his "piece of pork" and from that time all omnibus bills of like character have been called "pork barrel" bills.

Contest Editor's Query Column

The Advocate will be glad to answer all legitimate questions regarding the contest through the Contest Editor's query column. Questions may be sent by mail or telephone but the answers will be printed in this column so that no contestant will have any advantage over another.

R. H. T.—Thank you for your suggestion of March 1st. If any of your coupons are cut below the line reading "What Book Is Meant by This Picture" we shall be pleased to exchange them for perfect coupons. We had a good reason for printing a list of 70 books from which the first six pictures were taken. Hundreds have thanked us. You are the third to criticize the act. We are glad you were successful in the last contest, and wish you good fortune in this one.

W. J. C.—Columbus—in case books of the same title are by different authors, if the title is correctly given, contestants may give either author's name. Duplicate drawings of contest pictures, if made by contestants, must be exact, therefore it scarcely would be profitable to any contestant to bother with the drawings when the coupons and pictures may be obtained by writing the contest editor. The extra coupons are sold at 2c each, the price of single copies of the paper.

D. C. B., Newark.—If one contestant has used five coupons for each picture and thereby answers all correctly, and another uses one for each and answers all seventy correctly, the contestant using one for each and answering all correctly would have the better standing. This is covered in paragraph 6 of the contest rules, appearing in each edition of the Advocate.

Mrs. G. A. R.—Your question is answered in this column in reply to another contestant.

H. R., Utica.—Yes, two or more prizes will go to one family if results warrant. Two or more members of the family may join in the contest and submit separate sets. The correct answers will be printed after the contest closes. Question 3 will be decided by the judges. Some newspapers in conducting contests of this kind have "answer books," others do not. The Advocate will have no answer book but contestants will write their solutions upon coupons clipped from the paper. Those who want to submit more than one answer for each or any picture may obtain extra coupons at this office at any time during the contest. These coupons are sold at the same price as single copies of the paper, 2c each.

Telephone.—If there should be twelve persons who have seventy correct answers, after grading according to neatness and according to the rules the remaining eleven would be awarded prizes from the list according to the relative neatness of their answers as determined by the judges.

West Newark.—You ask whether paragraphs five and six of the contest rules are conflicting. Paragraph five says that where five coupons are submitted for one picture the contestant will be credited for the correct solution and will not have the incorrect ones counted against his or her chances. Paragraph six, however, makes it clear that the fewer coupons used in supplying the seventy correct answers, the higher the rating that will be given the contestant.

Newark, R. F. D.—Don't be impatient. Inquiries can not always be answered the day they are received. Our mail is too heavy. The judges were announced yesterday. They are Judge T. B. Fulton, Hon. Edw. Kibler, Wm. M. Morgan, Prof. C. L. Williams, Prof. Wilson Hawkins.

A. R. T.—Glad to hear from you. You are in time. We are mailing you coupons beginning with No. 1 dating your subscription from Feb. 10. Price of the catalogue by mail 20 cents.

N. A. D.—Part of the pictures printed so far have been drawn by the Advocate artist, part by an artist in another city. No one person in Newark knows all of the answers to the pictures already published. Only one person knows the answers to the pictures drawn by the Newark artist. Even the artist himself doesn't know the book his picture represents.

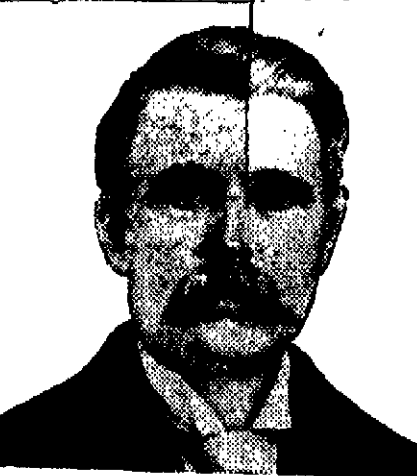

Geo. E.—Your question is hardly a proper one. We shall gladly answer every fair question.

D. G.—The lot which is listed at $150 is on the tax duplicate for $110. It is really worth more than $150. The lot immediately opposite it was sold for $150.

F. D.—Instructions for arrangement of coupons at completion of the contest will be given later. We suggest that you now simply keep your coupons in numerical order, putting all of one number (not exceeding 5) together. For example you

Eats Freely But Has No Dyspepsia

A Little Pepsin in a Mild Laxative Promptly Corrected a Bad Indigestion.

J. W. GOUCHER

Fortunate is the one who can eat "anything" without suffering the tortures of dyspepsia, but as few are so fortunate, care should be taken in the matter of diet. Eating slowly, masticating the food thoroughly and taking a short walk after the heavy meal of the day will do much towards assisting digestion. Any grown-up person ought to know the peculiar foods that do not agree, and these should be avoided.

When these common-sense aids fail, the next thing to do is to take a mild digestive tonic with laxative properties, and there is none better than Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It contains the greatest of all aids to digestion, good pepsin. It has other ingredients that act mildly on the bowels, which together form a combination for the relief of dyspepsia or indigestion that is unsurpassed.

Its action is to tone and strengthen the stomach and bowel muscles so that they can again do their work naturally without outside aid, and when that happy moment comes all medicine can be dispensed with. It is the best remedy obtainable for any disorder of the stomach, liver and bowels, for dyspepsia, constipation, biliousness, headaches, drowsiness after eating, gas on the stomach, etc. Thousands of users will testify to this, among them Mr. J. W. Goucher, Stites, Idaho, who for several years had all the worst symptoms of chronic dyspepsia. Since taking Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin these have all gone, and although Mr. Goucher says he is 64, he does not look more than 40.

Syrup Pepsin is sure in its results, and a vast improvement over chewing or swallowing tablets and mints, or taking cathartics, salts, etc., all of which are harsh and nauseous and at best do but temporary good. You can obtain Syrup Pepsin at any drug store for fifty cents or one dollar a bottle. Results are always guaranteed or money will be refunded.

Families wishing to try a free sample bottle can obtain it postpaid by addressing Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 419 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. A postal card with your name and address on it will do.

Obituary
Annie Sullivan Whitliss.
Annie Sullivan Whitliss was born in Newark, Ohio, December 15, 1847, and died in Baltimore, Ohio, February 18, 1914 in her 67th year. In 1874 she was united in marriage with Thomas Whitliss, to whom were born three children, two sons and one daughter. The husband departed this life in 1881 and the daughter Nellie called to her reward in 1908.

She leaves to mourn her departure, two devoted sons Dr. J. W. Whitliss of Baltimore, Ohio, and T. H. Whitliss of Cincinnati, Ohio, and many other friends and acquaintances. In early life our sister became a Christian and identified herself with the church of the living God, and throughout her life was a member of the church. During the latter part of her life she was a member of the Methodist Episcopal church at Hebron, Ohio, of which church she was a faithful and consistent member until her death.

She was of a kind and sympathetic nature. Her religious fervor was expressed by deeds of kindness to those in need and by comforting words for those who traveled the valley of sorrow and shadow. She was always found at the bedside of the sick, to aid and comfort. She has entered into rest, and it may well be said of her as of one of old, "She hath done what she could."

Services were conducted Friday morning from M. E. church Hebron, Ohio, by Rev. J. F. Kanuth of Hebron and J. P. Aitford of Baltimore.

Funeral of Miss Grace Anna Wright.
A typographical error in Monday's Advocate caused Thursday instead of Tuesday to be given as the day of the funeral of Miss Grace Anna Wright, who died Sunday in the home of her parents in St. Louisville. The service was held this afternoon at 1 o'clock, and was conducted by Rev. Mr. Greenawalt. Interment was made in Wilson cemetery.

Mrs. Roberts' Funeral.
Rev. Don D. Tuill of the Second Presbyterian church conducted the funeral services of Mrs. Lovina Roberts in Morris street, Tuesday afternoon. Miss Chrisler of Granville rendered vocal music. The body was laid to rest at Cedar Hill cemetery.

Soda For Gas, Acid Stomach or Indigestion

Gas, Gas, Gas—When everything eaten turns to gas and we eructate sour food and acid fluids it means we are troubled with acidity, says a noted authority. An excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach starts food fermentation and prevents complete digestion. Then our meals sour in the stomach like garbage sours in a can, forming gases which inflate the stomach like a toy balloon, causing a heavy, lumpy misery in the chest; we belch gas, have sour risings, heartburn, flatulence, water-brash and nausea.

He tells us to put aside all digestive aids and instead get from any pharmacy a package of 10 grains Sodagen tablets and take one tablet anytime followed by a tumbler of water which will instantly neutralize acidity; stop fermentation, absorb the gases and sweeten the entire digestive tract.

He further states that those men and women troubled with chronic acidity and its resulting indigestion, Sourness and Gases should take one 10 grain Sodagen tablet regularly after meals for a period as this antacid is entirely harmless, being composed of Soda, Magnesia and Calcium Carbonate U. S. P.

TIGHT CORSETS CAUSE DIVORCES SAYS HYGIENIST
[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
Boston, March 3.—"Fifty per cent of the divorces in this country are caused by tight corsets," Dr. Maude L. Dunne said at the opening session of the Hygienic Fashion Institute, Monday night. In explanation she said that the corsets first caused indigestion, then headache and backache, and later sympathetic ailments that complicated even to the toe.

The result is a soured disposition, fertile ground for sowing the seeds of divorce."

The institute decreed that fashion again will favor the thin woman, and that garments will follow natural lines.

Shy on Names.
One would suppose that even in large families parents wouldn't run out of names to give their children. But a certain lack of imagination—or material—is evident in sections of the foreign populated west side. A United Charities worker on one of her recent investigations came across a family where three of the young ones were named Joe. Her first thought was that either the father or mother had been married more than once, but to her amazement such did not prove to be the case. The mother simply liked the name Joe and took the path of least resistance.

"But," asked the visitor, turning to one of the little fellows, "how do you know when to come when your mamma wants you?"

"Oh, that's easy," was the reply. "When she wants me she calls 'Joe,' and I come, and when she wants my brother, why, he comes."

This explanation is still rather unsatisfactory, but the practice of calling several children in one family by the same name, I understand, is not uncommon in Chicago—Chicago Inter Ocean.

A Freak in Stone.
The rocky maze of Prachov, near Japan, in northern Bohemia, is a veritable natural curiosity. It has been well described as a gigantic "freak in stone." To enter the labyrinth without a guide is a perilous proceeding.

For an unwary adventurer would probably speedily be lost in the tortuous windings of the maze, where the paths are so narrow and crooked and the cliffs on the side so high that the explorer soon loses all idea of locality.

In days of very persecution the Moravian and Bohemian brethren's secret prayer meetings used to be held here, just as the early Christians assembled to worship in the catacombs. The cliffs are honeycombed with cells, and at the far end of the maze is a rock castle where in the old days a robber baron lived and took toll of all wayfarers. The shape of some of the rocks is very curious. There are, for instance, the "bishop and miter," the "Madonna and the child" and many others.—London Sketch.

Boys and Sleep.
One thing a growing boy wants to be long on is sleep, and yet he is most apt to be careless about it. It is during sleep that a boy grows most and catches up. During his waking hours he tears down and burns up more tissue than he builds. Good, sound and sufficient sleep is essential to growth, strength and endurance. A boy scout should have at least nine or ten hours of sleep out of every twenty-four.

If you lose out on this amount on one day make it up the next. Whenever unusually tired or when you feel out of trim stay in bed a few hours more if it is possible. A boy should wake up each morning feeling like a fighting cock. When he doesn't he ought to get to bed earlier that night. Sleep is a wonderful restorative and tonic. It helps to store up energy and conserve strength.—"Boy Scouts of America."

Manners in Russia.
Mme. Yvanoff, the famous musician, gives one a poor impression of Russian manners from the account she narrates in her "Memories and Adventures" of a visit to the Crimea in 1893. "Their 'want of logic' amused her."

"It enables them to be scrupulously clean in their persons," she says, "and yet they are not nice in their table manners. One substitutes his finger for his fork, another drinks out of the cream jug, a third cools his perspiring brow with the bread knife."

But, if their manners were doubtful, their music was divine. "The whole nation is thoroughly musical, down to the lowest." And in the matter of manners, as in other things, Russia has traveled a long way since 1893.

The Orange.
The orange was brought from Asia to Spain and Portugal in the sixteenth century. It was taken to South America by the early explorers and ran wild in the forests of the Amazon. Originally a small, sour fruit, it has been cultivated up to its present size and sweetness. The orange industry began in the United States about 1878 and about 1885 was well advanced. The number of orange trees in this country is now close to 10,000,000, of which California has about 60 per cent and Florida 30, the remainder being chiefly in Louisiana and Arizona.

And He Wanted More.
"To the Irish like the Italians, Pat?" "Sure they do," answered Pat. "There's 5,000 of 'em where I work, an' I wouldn't mind if there were 5,000 more."

"Where do you work?" "In an Italian cemetery,"—Philadelphia Ledger.

LITTLE DISCUSSIONS OF LOVE AND MARRIAGE

BY BARBARA BOYD

The Mother of "Little Women."

"I have been to see 'Little Women,'" said the Bachelor.

"You!" exclaimed the Bachelor Girl. "Whatever did you go to see that for?"

"For many reasons," said the Bachelor. "Our folks came from Concord and I have always been interested in the Alcotts. Then, as a youth, I read the book and thoroughly enjoyed it. And I like the sentiment of a play like that."

"Yes, I do, too," replied the Bachelor Girl. "To be honest, I went myself, to a matinee, and I cried straight through, from twenty to five. I had a lovely time."

The Bachelor laughed. "It sure was weepy in places, and there certainly was a generous use of handkerchiefs. But don't you like the wholesomeness of the play?"

"I certainly do," warmly responded the Bachelor Girl. "And I was glad to see the house packed. It showed, as I have said, that the heart of the American people is sound; no matter how we may seem to take to problem plays and slashed skirts and divorce."

The Bachelor eyed her curiously. "You are an extremely contradictory sort of person," he observed.

"Me!" exclaimed the Bachelor Girl, more forcibly than grammatically. "Now what have I done?"

"Do you admire Mrs. March, 'Marmee,' as the girls in the book call her?"

"I certainly do."

"Do you think she is a fine character?"

"Just great."

"Don't you think that in making that home and bringing up those girls to be the kind of women they were, she was doing a work worth while?"

"Most assuredly. She had the right idea of what a home ought to be. That home was a centre of inspiration and help, and every one of those girls would go out and make homes like it. It was a genuine 'homey' home."

"But she didn't belong to any women's clubs," said the Bachelor triumphantly, "or read papers on Ibsen or Maeterlinck; or vote, or do any of the things you seem to think so essential, if a woman is to be all a woman should be."

"You think you have me on the hip, don't you?" laughed the Bachelor Girl. "There were no women's clubs, as we know them today, in her time. Nor did women vote. But if those things had been, she would have been actively interested in them. She lived the life of her day fully. And if she were here now, she would live the life of today fully. I do not believe in woman neglecting her home for clubs and suffrage, any more than I believe in a woman neglecting herself for cooking and housekeeping. She doesn't have to do it either. Times have changed since Mrs. March's day. There is so much less to do in the home, because of improved conditions of living, that she can take part in the life outside the home without detriment to the home. And she makes a better home because she does this. I believe in a woman's living fully—every part of her. And the average woman can live more fully by being interested in the things that are interesting women, than by staying shut within the four walls of the house."

"Mrs. March didn't have those interests, and she stayed in the home, and she, as you say yourself, lived fully," contended the Bachelor.

"That is it exactly, she lived fully." She was a big, broad-shouldered, sympathetic woman, and she poured into her home the treasures of herself and what she gleaned from the life of the community, about her. Any woman who does that is doing all she can, whether she gets this broadening of herself, and her sympathies from within or from without. But today a good part of it comes from without. For the average woman who shuts herself in her house, and refuses to know, or does not know, any of the big thrilling life that is forging forward around her, is going to become stunted mentally and spiritually. I think any woman who can make the home and the 'little women' that Mrs. March did, is to be congratulated, and honored. But today, a woman can do it better by being in touch with world-movements than by being out of touch with them. Mrs. March was a good housekeeper, but she was much more than a mere housekeeper. And today, still more is required of a woman, in this matter of being more than a housekeeper, than in Mrs. March's day. Housekeeping is largely today a matter of planning and management. We are living in a pre-war-better age. And so woman must develop in other ways. If she doesn't, her faculties will atrophy from want of use. I should be only too happy to make a home as thoroughly in touch with life as was Mrs. March's."

"I'd be glad to help," offered the Bachelor.

But the Bachelor Girl was seeing visions in the fire and did not hear.

Barbara Boyd.

Human Procession

Alexander Graham Bell, the great inventor, was born in Edinburgh sixty-seven years ago today, and he has lived to see 12,500,000 monuments erected to perpetuate his name and fame, for it is estimated that there are that many telephones in the world. There is hardly a country on the globe, no matter how uncivilized, that has not at least a few of the "hello boxes" that have added so vastly to the facility of communication and commerce, and the consequent comfort and convenience of humanity.

Alexander Graham Bell was a youth in Edinburgh when he began experimenting with the invention that is so inseparably connected with his name. In 1876 he came to America with his father, Prof. Alexander Melville Bell, and educator and elocutionist and an authority on the voice. The family settled in Canada, at Tutelo Heights, near Brantford, Ont., and there Bell's first telephone line was built, connecting the Bell residence with the city of Brantford, a distance of three miles. In Scotland young Bell had been a teacher of deaf mutes, and it was this work that led him to take up the study of sound transmission. After a few months in Canada the younger Bell became professor of vocal physiology at Boston University, but continued his work on the telephone. He exhibited a telephone at the 1876 exhibition at Philadelphia, but it was considered to be nothing more than an interesting toy, and capitalists would have nothing to do with it. It was in that year that Bell patented his invention in the United States. Within three hours after filing his papers another man applied for a patent on a telephone similar to Bell's, and lost fame and fortune "by a nose."

While Bell as seeking to interest capital in the United States, and offering Chauncey Depew and other wealthy men a sixth interest, now worth at least twenty-five millions, for only $10,000, his father was looking after his interests in Canada, where infringements had been attempted. It was in Ottawa that the first permanent telephone line was built, connecting Rideau Hall, then occupied by the Earl of Dufferin as Governor-General, with the office of Alexander Mackenzie, then premier of the Dominion. Bell's first receipts from his invention were derived from the rental charged for these telephones. Premier Mackenzie was probably the first time in history to become enraptured at a telephone and threaten to "tear it out by the roots," although millions have since made similar threats. The Ottawa line was crude, and communication was often cut off in the middle of a conversation, this being due to mechanical defects and not the interference of a telephone girl, and it was this that aroused the Canadian Prime Minister's ire. Long distance music was first heard over the Ottawa line, as Lady Dufferin often sang and played the piano at Rideau Hall and the music as clearly heard at the other terminus of the line, two miles away.

"CASCARETS" FOR SLUGGISH LIVER

No Sick Headache, Bilious Stomach, Costed Tenure or Constipated Bowels by morning.

Get a 10-cent box now. Turn the rascals out—the headache, biliousness, indigestion, the sick, sour stomach and foul gases—turn them out tonight and keep them out with Cascarets.

Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then and never know the misery caused by a lazy liver, clogged bowels or an upset stomach. Don't put in another day of distress. Let Cascarets cleanse your stomach; remove the sour, fermenting food; take the excess bile from your liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter and poison in the bowels. Then you will feel great.

INSPECTION VISIT PAID TO THIS CITY BY B. & O. OFFICIALS

Third Vice President Thompson, General Manager Galloway and Assistant General Superintendent of Motive Power Carroll, of the Baltimore & Ohio system, paid a visit of inspection to this terminal Sunday, departing for Parkersburg on special train at 10 o'clock in the morning. The party arrived from Chicago Saturday night at 9 o'clock. Local officials admitted that during the inspection the question of reduction in the amount of local help was discussed, in view of reduced monthly appropriations, and slow business.

Railroad officials are inclined to believe the falling off in their shipping business is due to the fact that the steel mills are not running, and this, in turn is said to be caused by the fact that railroads are not purchasing rails and steel work more than is absolutely necessary until they learn what disposition will be made with their plea for a five per cent increase in freight rates, so they may know how much money they may expend in such investments. Railroad magazines are said to have found a three-to-one vote in favor of the increase when the proposition was submitted to big shippers.

Coal shipments from West Virginia have been heavy during the past few days. The cold weather over the Central and Eastern states has caused a demand, and many dealers, and manufacturing plants as well, are laying in a reserve supply in anticipation of the tie-up that is expected within a few weeks on account of the differences between coal operators and miners. The past few days have witnessed heavy shipments of coal through here on the B. & O.

INTERSCHOLASTIC DEBATE WILL BE HELD MARCH 13

After months of preparation the members of the high school debating team are rounding into good shape for the interscholastic debate to be held with Mt. Vernon and Zanesville on March 13. The debaters are working night and day and confidently expect to cover themselves with laurels when the forensic combat ensues. The negative team will go to Mt. Vernon to meet the high school of that city and the affirmative team will stay at home to clash with the Zanesville team that comes here for this annual event.

For months the students have been in joyous expectation of this event and yelling themselves hoarse in the high school chapel practicing yells for the occasion that arouses more enthusiasm and school spirit than any other episode in the high school year. Several months ago the teams were chosen and since then they have been working under the capable management and instruction of C. M. Parker. Mr. Parker is a graduate of Ohio State University and a former member of the debating team of that institution. He has been giving the orators a great deal of drill in the decorum of debate, in speaking and the preparation of arguments.

The question this year is to be: "Resolved, That the short ballot should be adopted in all municipal elections." It will be of interest to all as the works of the best authorities have been procured as a source of material for the debaters. Old and young will be interested as it is an established fact that the speakers in these debates give discussions that are as good as those of many public speakers on the platform today.

The personnel of the affirmative team is Florence Dunsheimer, Grace Davis, Leland Stevenson, captain, and Robert Wilkin, alternate. The negative team is Paulding Ferry, Blanche Porter, John Dale McNamara, captain, and Lela Elia Hawkins, alternate. It is expected that a large delegation composed of high school students and debating enthusiasts will accompany the negative team to Mt. Vernon to inspire them with their support on the night of the debate.

PREPARATIONS FOR THE HIGH SCHOOL MINSTREL SHOW

Rehearsals for the minstrel that the High School Troubadours will present some time during the latter part of March have been progressing with wonderful rapidity and all the end men and soloists as well as the chorus are prepared to go on the stage without very much more preparation.

Those two well-known comedians, Frank Ryan and Goddard Chase, have songs that are bound to bring down the house and the other end men with their songs and jokes are prepared to create the most laughter and applause that have been heard in the High School auditorium this year. Among the soloists are Frank Graham, tenor, who is fast making a name for himself; Harry Siegle, Belford Cheadle, and the bass singer with the resonant voice, William Dispenett.

More elegant than ever will be the costumes and stage effects this year and the first part is calculated to come up to the standard of any minstrel show that has been seen in the city this year.

J. Dale McNamara will open the olio with a monologue and will sing several original local parodies.

Several other acts have been procured for the olio and it is planned to give the people something that will come up to the professional vaudeville. The olio will be concluded with a darktown mock trial, which is uproariously farcical. It is planned to give the lovers of music and humor an entertainment that they will always remember. The minstrel will be presented two consecutive evenings.

NOSTRIOLA OPENS NOSTRILS BREAKS A COLD, STOPS CATARRH

This Simple Common-Sense Treatment Costs But a Trifle and Brings Quick Relief.

Nostriola is a simple, harmless antiseptic balm that quickly opens the nasal passages and breaks the mucous linings of the air passages and this treatment is much more pleasant and satisfactory than stomach dosing to cure a cold.

Everybody knows that colds lead to Catarrh, Catarrhal Deafness, Catarrhal Headache, Nasal Catarrh, Hay Fever and kindred diseases.

The best time to cure Catarrh is before it becomes chronic, and the quickest way to get results is to apply the treatment direct to the seat of the trouble.

Competition of Other Cities Makes It Imperative That Newark Must Renew Efforts

Newark's commercial progress should be paramount in the mind of every one of its citizens. This is not merely a general statement but a fact that needs no argument or demonstration. All classes of citizens, and the representatives of every line of endeavor should have a vivid realization of the proposition that as the city grows and the field for enticing a safe investment of capital in manufacturing a larger number of articles broadens, just so far the advancement of the general good is fostered while the success and contentment of the individual is enhanced.

It is indisputable that Newark is highly favored with a most admirable location from a geographical standpoint and has facilities in other directions that are far above the ordinary. But these alone will not bring factories to Newark. Something definite must be done to exploit these advantages, to bring them forcibly and indisputably to the attention of the persons and corporations that have control of factories to establish in Newark. Some one has to do this if it is done at all. The initiative must be taken and time, energy and money must be expended to bring about the desideratum. A personal, vital, intelligent co-operation is absolutely essential. Effort must be collected, as it were, and directed toward one object and only one.

Now who is to do this? The answer will be, the Newark Board of Trade, and that is precisely what this body proposes to do. A new plan is being worked out and will soon be put into operation. But it is necessary that every citizen must conclude that it means his own betterment, and then consider himself a part of this organized effort, put his shoulder to the wheel, and work insistently and unselfishly toward the common weal which in the end will have an individual and personal application.

This city has competition to meet from others in securing new factories. Something has been done in the past three years, but effort seems to have become lax. No city can stand still in the march of progress. Stagnation means death. To remain stationary is to allow others to go ahead, and by comparison retrogression is apparent.

We must be up and doing as other cities are. It is stated that Dayton boasts that there is not an article necessary about a home or its furnishing that is not made there in spite of terrible calamity they were spurred to greater activity and have risen like a Phoenix from its ruins greater than before. This is the spirit that should be apparent in Newark.

In Detroit a man on every floor of the big buildings greets one as he leaves the elevator with the question, "Do you belong to the chamber of commerce?"

In Massillon and Canton the same spirit is broadcast, and in this manner results are accomplished. Study the new plan of the reorganized Board of Trade. Familiarize yourself with its details. Join forces with those putting into execution, take upon yourself a part of the work and share in the benefits derived.

Thomas Dean..... Henry Hallam
Jane, his daughter..... Alice Hollister
Sarah, Dean's second wife..... Alice Joyce
Ware, her former lover..... Tom Moore

Mr. Dean came into the studio, where Jane, his daughter, was busy at her easel. "I'm going out now, mistress. Are you going to say goodbye to your old father?" he queried, looking over her shoulder at her work.

"You ridiculous father, of course I am," she jumped up, starting to put her arms around him, but encountering a button dangling from his coat, she made a dash for her work basket.

"Off with that coat this minute, sir. I can't let you go out with your buttons hanging like pendulums. It would be a blot on your daughter's reputation as a caretaker," she rattled on as she took the few stitches that anchored the button firmly to the coat. The two kissed each other fondly and the girl went back to her brushes, while the man went for a game of cards with his friend Ware.

Then he went to see Sarah Wallace, for whose hand he and Ware were rival suitors, though maintaining their strong friendship for each other, and overruled her fears in regard to the possible attitude of his daughter Jane. Ware, when receiving Sarah's refusal and learning of her engagement said, "The time will come when you will need a friend. Don't hesitate to call on me then," to which Sarah simply laughed and suggested that he need not worry on her account.

After her father had gone out Jane noticed a letter which had slipped on the floor from her father's coat pocket. She opened it with no delay and found it expressed Sarah's reluctance to marry Dean because of Jane. Maddened at the thought of sharing her father with another woman, Jane gave herself over to unstrained bitterness, an attitude she maintained.

When Dean brought Sarah home after the wedding, Jane refused anything more than a frigid greeting, turning her shoulder and directing herself to her book. Young Mrs. Dean used every effort to win the girl, approaching her with the utmost friendliness and tenderness, but she was always repulsed.

At last, after a particularly bitter experience, she went to the telephone in the hall and called up Ware, asking him to help her. Jane, who had just gone upstairs, overheard the conversation. Ware, on whom Dean was calling at the time, was obliged to answer evasively, giving Sarah but little satisfaction.

Sarah's last nerves demanded action, and after a space of impatient waiting she flung into a cloak and went to Ware's apartment, arriving almost immediately after her husband's departure. Ware failed to show himself the friend he claimed to be, for when Sarah came in, fearful and heavy hearted, he tried to take her in his arms, regardless of her resisting struggles. At this juncture the door opened and there stood Jane.

The women faced each other. Sarah defiantly, Jane repentantly. "I heard you telephone. I saw you go. I'm so scared, I don't know what to do. I have caused you. Can you forgive me for my cruelty?"

Sarah held out her arms and the two women joined their heads in loving embrace, just as footsteps sounded down the hall. Ware pushed them into the next room, closing the door, and they listened while Dean came in looking for his forgotten overcoat. He caught a glimpse of an embroidered handkerchief on a table. "Oh, he my boy," he said, holding it up by the corners. "Is this the kind of tricks you are playing? Whom have you tricked away in this way, my dear?" He sniffed at the bit of linen, then his eyes fell on the mark in the corner. "My wife's!" he gasped. With that he broke into a torrent of rage, struggling to reach the door which Ware protected.

In the midst the door opened slowly and Jane came out, closing it after her and standing with bowed head. Her father fell back in amazement, then a new flood of anger rolled up. "You are no more daughter of mine," he pronounced. "Your home is no longer in my house," and he left the room.

So Jane, who had armed for her one kindness by the sacrifice of her own reputation for that of her stepmother's, took her cast

MISS ALICE JOYCE—Kalem.

FIVE years ago one of the Kalem producers found himself in desperate need of a leading woman possessed of more than ordinary beauty. He communicated the facts of the situation to a friend—a photographer. The photographer produced Miss Joyce. She was employed on the spot, although she confessed that she had no theatrical experience. Since then she has repeatedly vindicated the judgment of the producer who employed her. At the present time she is the star of the Kalem staff. She is particularly valuable because, besides being a versatile and compelling actress, she is an excellent equestrienne and swimmer.

and her paint brushes and went out in the world, where she tried to make a living. But it was a sorry business and she kept finding it more and more difficult. One day in her poor attic room Sarah came to her. "Jane, I cannot stand it any longer," she said. "You must come home. I'll arrange it." So Jane went back to her old home with her stepmother.

On her return she was sitting in the drawing room when her father came in and saw her. Rage mastered him at once.

"You here! How dare you come back?" But his tirade was interrupted by Sarah and by the arrival of Ware, for whom she had sent.

Sarah rested her hand on Dean's shoulder. "You must listen to me. I cannot stand this any longer and I must tell you." Then she told the story of the former bitterness between Jane and herself of the day in Ware's apartment, and of the love the two now feel for each other. In this Ware and Jane were happy with each other, finally convincing Dean, and the three joined in a united happiness none of them had known before.

old gentleman's choice of a bride for his son, a girl haughty and unlovable. This plan is defeated by the son falling in love with a charming young singer, and when he insists on marrying her his father drives him away from his home. All of the boy's toys and treasures are stowed away in the attic and the old man makes no mention of him.

In the passing of time the character of the community changes and the old homes become cheap tenements. Mr. Morton continuing to live in his, however, though the street has become a veritable annex to slumland. When fifteen years have gone he receives a note from his son telling of illness and begging that he be kind to his young son for the sake of the little boy he once loved. But the old man steals his heart against the appeal and ignores it.

When the father dies, young Billy and his mother are in very straitened circumstances and they come to live in an attic room in a lodging house adjoining Mr. Morton's home. While the mother is off to school one day Billy amuses himself playing ball on the long row of connected roofs. One day his ball rolls down a skylight, followed by Billy in rescue. Here he finds himself in a regular Ali Baba's cave, for there is treasure of all sorts dear to boyish hearts. Quickly he slips into a soldier's uniform he finds and has a fine drill with drum, horn, and gun. He grows tired at last and falls asleep in a little tent he has rigged up out of an old carpet.

Old Mr. Morton is made to pay the penalty of living in a slum neighborhood. Two ruffians steal in through his basement entrance, gag and blind butler, housekeeper, and valet, make their way to the old gentleman's room, where they overpower and gag him, drag him up in the attic and fling him on a heap of rubbish. They return to the dining room, but in the process of rifling sideboard and safe they find cigars and liquors and grow tipsily helpless in their abandoned revels.

Up in the attic the little boy finally awakens and sees the headless old man and starts up the ladder, spraining his wrist to go for help. To the old man this unexpected sight of the little boy is supernatural and thinking it is the spirit of his son he loses consciousness.

The small boy brings policemen who release the servants, capture the robbers, and rescue the old gentleman. He cannot rest, but toases about, begging to see the small boy again. Servants and physician are at a loss as to what he means.

After the excitement has settled, Billy remembers that his wrist hurts much and he sinks on a neighboring doorstep holding it and cringing with pain. The doctor, coming out of Morton's house, notices he is suffering and stops to see what the trouble is. Then he notices the soldier's uniform.

"Why, you must be the little boy Mr. Morton is wanting to see. Come on with me. I'll go in and find out," said the doctor after he had put on a bandage.

Billy's mother had been in the meantime, so they all went in to see the old man and he took the small boy and the tired widow to his hard old heart, which was melted into the semblance of a human organ again.

"The Beautiful Leading Lady."

Wood B. Wedd, lately fallen into a legacy, writes to his friend, Darby Jenks, manager of a traveling troupe of actors, that he intends to pay him a visit and incidentally pay him money he owes him. Jenks, being close to the end of his resources, rejoices. Mr. Wedd is an amorous person and when he reaches the hotel where Jenks and his troupe are stopping one of the first objects that strikes his eye is the beautiful leading lady. He falls madly in love. The leading man of the company, not having been paid for some time, goes on a strike. Wood B. volunteers to take his part and, beguiled by the beautiful leading lady's smiles, also pays bills and salaries for Jenks. In the play it becomes the duty of the beautiful leading lady to hurl the leading man out of a window. This so offends Mr. Wedd's sense of decency that he returns to the stage and assaults the man who is playing the part of father. The audience, aroused by this outrage breaks up the show. Wedd and Jenks flee but Wedd is overtaken and tarred and feathered.

LADIES! DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

Look years younger! Use Grandmother's recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur and nobody will know.

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and abundant. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is messy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," you will get this famous old recipe which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, feverish, itchy scalp and falling hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, it becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and abundant. Agents Hall's drug store.

Navy Department Substituting Oil For Coal Ranges

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Washington, March 3.—Because oil ranges are much cheaper and cleaner than coal ranges, the navy department is having them installed in the galleys of the Pennsylvania and battleship No. 39, now under construction, for cooking purposes. The department announced today that it had decided on the oil range after it had experimented with various other types. This step is in line with the department's policy of using oil instead of coal for fuel on its latest ships. Besides being more economical and cleaner, the department pointed out, there is a decided advantage in cooking with oil on a battleship which are thus being equipped. The cost of cooking by the different methods was found to be about as follows, per day: With an electric range, $22.50; with a coal range, $16, and with an oil range, $5.65.

DEATH RESULTS FROM MISTAKE IN TAKING MEDICINE

Paralysis following a dose of potassium chlorate, which he took thinking it was salts, caused the death of E. Byron Stewart of 102 Hancock street on Monday evening at his home.

A week ago last Friday night Mr. Stewart attempted to take a dose of salts, mistaking the powder, he took potassium chlorate, and it is thought the dose contained at least 90 grains of the poison. Dr. J. W. Barker was called and he was taken to the Newark Sanitarium. His condition improved and his recovery seemed assured and on Sunday he was removed to his home. However the poison reacting on the system, produced paralysis and death came unexpectedly on Monday evening.

The deceased is survived by his wife and two children, Freda, age 4, and a baby, Martha, age 1. His home was in Cambridge and his father and mother with two brothers, Frank and James, and two sisters, Mrs. Ida Parks and Miss Charleen Stewart, survive him there.

He was employed at the Jewett company as a painter, and was a favorite with his fellow associates. There will be short funeral services at the home in Hancock street Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock, conducted by the Rev. Mr. Roof and the body will be sent to Cambridge on Wednesday morning. Funeral services will be held there on Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

GOETHALS SAYS SHIPLEY'S WORK IS SATISFACTORY

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Washington, March 3.—Inquiry today of Col. George W. Goethals, chairman of the Panama canal commission who is now here, establishes that dispatches dated Panama on or about February 9 last, stating that W. F. Shipley, chief clerk of the subsistence department, had been suspended on grounds of incompetency, were erroneous. Colonel Goethals says Mr. Shipley was not suspended at that time or at any time since. He also spoke of Mr. Shipley as an entirely competent official and says he is now satisfactorily discharging the important duties of chief clerk of the subsistence department of the canal. It appears that Mr. Shipley had spoken of resigning in order to accept a business position which had been offered him and this may have given rise to the other statements in reference to him.

$75.00 VICTROLA FROM RAWLINGS' SPLENDID PRIZE

How would you like to have this splendid Victrola in your home? This is one of the one hundred and thirty-six prizes offered you in the Advocate's Booklovers' contest.

This fine $75.00 Victrola was purchased from the A. L. Rawlings' Music Store at 4 North Park Place, one of the oldest and best known business houses of Newark.

One of the great features of this prize is that you have your choice of a Columbia, Victor or Edison Victrola. They all have beautiful mahogany cabinets. The Edison has the diamond point needle and no change is necessary, but with the Columbia and Victor a new needle should be used on every piece. These Victrolas are all the latest models and Mr. Rawlings has a splendid stock for selection.

Mr. Rawlings commenced business in this city in 1888 and for the last fifteen years has been established in his present fine quarters at 4 North Park Place. He has an immense line of high grade pianos such as Knabe Bros., Smith & Nixon. Acoustic Grand made by the Chickering Bros., the Rawlings Piano made by Knabe Bros. at the factory at Norwood, O., and other cheaper makes.

Mr. Rawlings also makes a specialty of Player Pianos, having the Apollo, which has a world wide reputation, the Smith & Nixon, known the world over, the Rawlings & Milton and others.

Everything in the small instrument line is also to be found here. All pianos and piano players can be bought here on the easy payment plan if desired.

This Victrola is a prize that everybody wants—old and young like it immensely, and some home will be glad to have it. The prize is the Advocate's big Booklovers' Contest. If you're not already enjoying the game—commence today. Just think of the pleasure of having this fine $75.00 Victrola in your home.

DIGGING

wise employed and everywhere in the great city the man with a pick and shovel is the most prominent figure next to the great mounds of snow left by the previous storms which he builds still higher.

It was estimated that in New York and vicinity, including the employees of the railroad, that an army of fifty thousand men is engaged in removing the snow embargo.

With the resumption of railroad traffic the threatened milk and meat famines passed and it was believed that the supply of coal would be sufficient because of the warmer weather. Difficulty in moving coal resulted in such suffering during the past several days, especially among the poorer classes. Inability to make deliveries also resulted in a shortage of beer and with it the price advanced. This condition was not expected to continue long today.

The storm caused much trouble to shipping, the harbor being filled with ice while the almost constant high winds menaced all vessels. In-bound liners which have been waiting in the outer harbor ventured into port yesterday and today. Off Fire Island yesterday eight barges laden with coal were cast adrift by tugs towing them. Each barge has four men aboard and it was feared that they would drag anchor and be dashed to pieces on the shoals. The tugs are standing by to pick up the barges as soon as the weather moderates sufficiently.

In the city and its suburbs twelve persons are dead as a direct result of the storm. Three lives lost were those of laborers employed in removing snow on the Long Island railroad. They were run down by a motor train. Two other men, one a snow shoveler, were killed by a Long Island train. Two other victims of the storm were killed by fallen electric wires in Newark, N. J.

Telegraph and telephone companies today sent out hundreds of men in all directions to repair poles and wires.

The Lakewood-Atlantic City express train with one hundred passengers aboard is stalled in cut near Red Bank, N. J. It ran into a snow-drift in a cut on Sunday night. Wrecking crews working to release the train estimated that it might not be able to resume its trip before night or tomorrow. Many of the passengers are invalids on their way to Atlantic City to recuperate.

The charity organization society made public a statement today in which it was estimated that more suffering among the poor resulted from the storm than any other in many years. It reported that yesterday it had 2,781 families in its care, 548 more than last year at this time. Other charitable organizations reported numerous appeals for coal and food.

Work for thousands has been found in New York and vicinity by the snowstorm. No one willing to join the army of snow shovelers is turned away, and the demand for men far exceeds the applicants by several thousand. At the offices of the snow removal contractors every applicant is put to work. The Pennsylvania railroad's search for 1,000 snow shovelers resulted in failure. In addition private companies have applied to the municipal employment agency for a large number of laborers.

Besides its regular force the street cleaning department had 5,000 men at work removing snow last night and today, it was estimated that 15,000 more would be needed if the principal traffic streets were cleared of snow.

VALUE OF RHEUMA FROM THE COURT

Judge Barhorst Was Relieved of Rheumatism After Doctors Failed.

If you have tried many other remedies and doctors' treatments for Rheumatism and found they failed, do not be skeptical about trying RHEUMA-MA. Read the testimony of Judge John Barhorst of Fort Loraine, O.: "After treatment by three doctors without result, I have been cured of a very bad case of Rheumatism by using two bottles of RHEUMA. It is now two years since I used the remedy, and I am still as well as ever. Previously, I was a cripple, walking with crutches."

Such testimony should be convincing. 50 cents of Evans' Drug Store, guaranteed.

Granville

(Special to the Advocate) Granville, March 3.—An interesting program was presented by the Travelers club in the parlors of the Baptist church Monday afternoon. Last week's meeting was postponed because of the heavy snowfall which occurred.

The conversation was led by Mrs. Field, who chose as her subject the "Standard Oil of China." She based her discussion on the article of that name which was published in the last issue of the Literary Digest.

A paper describing the Gunnison tunnel of Colorado was presented by Mrs. Biggs. A brief review of the history of the tunnel was given. Work was primarily begun on the tunnel by two men who after conceiving the benefits to be derived from the construction of this passageway earnestly started to accomplish their task. The result of their efforts is the fruitful condition of the country in the vicinity of the tunnel, made possible by irrigation.

A review of the book, "The Romano Country," written by Helen Hunt Jackson, was given by Miss Jones. Concluding the program for the afternoon Mrs. Rohrer sang the Spanish and Mexican National anthems.

The annual interclass track meet will be staged in Swasey gymnasium Tuesday evening. A great deal of rivalry is being displayed by the various classes and the contests are expected to be close.

NEVER SAW HIS OWN CHILD HE INFORMS COURT

The fact that he never saw his own child and doesn't even know whether it is a boy or a girl, is one of the reasons why William A. Cramer wants a divorce from Dollie M. Cramer. Attorney H. J. Alexander filed Cramer's petition, in which he charges his wife with deserting him, refusing to see him or talk with him on the telephone.

He says they were married in October, 1912, and that March 15, last year, she left him and went to live with her parents, in Perryton, this county. He says a child was born to her September 21 last, and he asks that the court give him permission to see the child at reasonable intervals.

LEGGE TRIAL STARTED IN COURT TODAY

Case Will Rest on Expert Testimony in a Large Measure, 22 Physicians Having Been Subpoenaed.

The balance of the regular list of talesmen was exhausted and a special venire was summoned to Common Pleas court Tuesday from which a jury was selected to try the case of Dr. C. F. Legge, charged with performing a criminal operation upon Helen McAndrews, aged 16, of Columbus, last July.

The McAndrews girl died from peritonitis. The state charges Dr. Legge performed an operation which induced the fatal illness. The defense is a general denial accompanied with the contention that any service Dr. Legge may have rendered was not responsible for circumstances following.

It is expected the case will rest largely on expert testimony. Eight physicians and surgeons were summoned as witnesses for the state, while the defense had summons issued to fourteen physicians and surgeons.

Prosecutor Jones is assisted by Ex-prosecutor Phil B. Smythe. Dr. Legge is represented by J. R. Fitzgibbon, H. C. Ashcraft and A. A. Stage.

Jurors are W. O. Blamer, Henry Clouse, W. A. Beckman, A. J. Connell, W. H. Wilkin, J. H. McKnight, Austin Orr, Asbury Bishop, W. C. Harter, Jerome Pierpont, M. J. Reese and Edward Williams.

The first witnesses called by the state were Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Smith, cousins of the McAndrews girl.

Common Pleas Court.

In the case of Harry H. Baird vs. Jewett Car Co., a suit brought to quiet the title to certain real estate in the West End. Court found balance due Mr. Baird of $2027.94, upon the payment of which sum to him, he, Baird, is ordered to convey the premises in dispute to the Jewett Car Co. Exceptions were noted.

Federal Chemical Co. vs. J. V. Hilliard, motion to set aside service of summons upon the defendant, overruled. Exceptions noted.

H. J. Davis vs. Dottie Horn, motion to dissolve attachment before justice of the peace overruled. Exceptions noted.

State of Ohio vs. James Spicer, indicted for failure to provide for minor child. Trial passed.

The case of Thomas Donley, administrator of the estate of John Donley vs. Will D. Harris, will be taken to the Court of Appeals. Plaintiff's decedent was killed while riding on a coaster at Buckeye Lake park some time since. He claims negligence in the construction of the coaster and track. The jury found for Harris.

Divorces Granted.

Infidelity, extreme cruelty and neglect were the grounds on which two divorce decrees were entered by Probate Judge Hunter, Tuesday. Decrees were granted Arletta Neal from George T. Neal, with $20 monthly alimony and Ella May Swartz from Henry J. Swartz, with restoration of the plaintiff's maiden name. Lipscomb, Smythe & Smythe were counsel for both plaintiffs.

BRITAIN'S

"I must also leave of the House to make a somewhat more extended statement than can properly be compressed within the limits of an answer to a question.

"All efforts that have been made hitherto have failed to secure an investigation into the facts respecting the death of William S. Benton.

"The persistent difficulties put in the way of such an investigation create the strongest presumption of a desire and an intention to conceal the truth of the part of those in Mexico who are responsible for what has happened.

WETS WIN OUT IN MAHONING BY SMALL MAJORITY

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Youngstown, O., March 2.—The official result of the county local option election is not expected to change the result of the unofficial returns which show the wets winners by 251 majority. There are 200 contested ballots which the election board will rule upon. These are all wet votes. If all were counted for the drys, the result of the election would be overturned but this is not regarded as within the range of probability. No formal contest of the outcome will be made by the drys until the official result has been certified by the board of elections. The drys may decide not to take the matter into the courts at all, according to statements of dry leaders here today.

BACK TO PURITANISM.

Boston, March 2.—The Boston school board today placed a ban on schoolboy junketing. It was voted not to allow pupils to engage in athletic contests which require their absence from the city over night. Lack of restraint on such trips in the past was given as the reason for the order.

STATEMENT READ TO CABINET OF THE PRESIDENT

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Washington, March 3.—Sir Edward Grey's statement to the house of commons, as received here in news dispatches was read by President Wilson to his cabinet and was generally regarded as lessening the tension which had been felt over the possibility of extreme pressure being exerted upon the United States by England for a drastic course.

Friends of Carranza here have received telegrams saying the constitutional cabinet was in session considering all phases of the situation and that there was a hope for a satisfactory outcome.

MAY NEVER GET TO VIEW BODY

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) El Paso, Texas, March 3.—A member of the Benton commission today expressed the opinion that the investigators never would go to Chihuahua to view the body.

"This is my personal opinion," he said. "It is not based on official information. Benton was killed on February 17 and this is the third of March. The body must be in such a condition by this time that any wound or wounds in the flesh would be obliterated."

Members of the Benton investigating committee did not know today whether they were to proceed to Chihuahua or not. They are awaiting instructions from Washington.

"The commissioners entertained but slight hope that the proposed investigation would reveal the manner of Benton's death at the hands of General Villa. It is the belief of many here that if Benton's body is not in an advanced state of decomposition it probably has been mutilated by chemicals."

BENTON CASE NOW IN HANDS OF CARRANZA

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Chihuahua, Mex., March 2.—General Villa today cleared up the mystery as to where the order came from which halted the Benton commission as it was about to leave Juarez last Sunday. It had been credited both to him and to General Carranza, but Villa said the request came from Carranza and he merely transmitted it into an order to the Juarez garrison.

"The Benton case and all foreign relations are now in the hands of the supreme chief and will remain there," said General Villa.

The general said he intended to educate forty poor children in the United States at public expense, owing to the demoralized conditions of Mexican schools.

"The bomb dropping aeroplane and 3,000 shrapnel shells have arrived," he said.

STEEL BARONS CALLED BEFORE COMMISSION

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Washington, March 3.—Counsel for David Lamar, whose charges that the United States steel corporation has received illegal rebates from railroads during the last six years, are being investigated by the interstate commerce commission, today asked for subpoenas for George W. Perkins, William E. Corey, former president of the corporation, Senator Oliver G. M. Freer of Columbus, Walter Scranton and William B. Dixon.

Charles A. Severance, attorney for the steel corporation was delayed by the railroad blockade and cross examination of Lamar did not begin until late in the day.

CONVENTION OF RETAIL SHOE MEN AT CINCINNATI, O.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Cincinnati, March 3.—About 450 shoe dealers from all over the state were present when the Ohio Retail Shoe Dealers Association's annual convention was opened here today. George F. Schott of Cincinnati, president of the association, delivered the opening address.

The delegates will spend three days discussing various questions of the trade, one of them being the "pure shoe" bills which have recently made their appearance in the legislature of a number of states.
